

Mogul 8-16 Saves Its Own Price In Fuel Bill Reduction

THAT'S true. A Mogul 8-16 kerosene tractor saves its own price in fuel bill saving, as compared with a gasoline tractor.

Until April 1st the price remains at $675 cash f. o. b. Chicago. Fortunate early purchasers of material still allow you this low figure. After April 1st the price will be $725, same terms.

At either price the Mogul 8-16 is by far the most economical tractor because it operates on cheap, common kerosene or coal oil. Gasoline to run the gasoline tractor costs over 100 per cent more than the kerosene a Mogul 8-16 will use. Which is best for you?

You know what gasoline costs you, and you know what you pay for kerosene. Figure it out yourself, or see your dealer. This is a saving you can't afford to miss.

Heckens was in Dakota City Tuesday attending to business matters in the E. W. Grove estate. Chas. Smith, the real estate man of Bassett, Neb., was in Emerson the first of the week, visiting with his brother, Sol. Mrs. Sol Smith, who has been in a Sioux City hospital for several weeks, has sufficiently recovered so that she will be brought home the latter part of this week.

Martinsburg Items in Ponca Journal: Mrs. L. N. Mappes returned home Tuesday after a few days visit with her daughter at South Sioux, Neb. A. L. Anderson returned to his home at Hubbard after a few days visit with his son, Arthur, last week. Mrs. Len Priest and little son, Kenneth, spent a few days last week with the former's parents near Waterbury. Mrs. Ed Bedford, of South Sioux, is a guest this week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs. L. N. Mappes.

Sioux City Journal, 1st: Woodrow Davis, of Homer, Neb., submitted to an operation for the removal of his tonsils yesterday at the Samaritan hospital. A verdict of $490.48 for the plaintiff was returned last night by the jury in the case of Mrs. Hattie Hirsch against Mrs. Ed Butler. The suit grew out of the sale of the Hirsch rooming house at 719 Douglas street. Mrs. Butler, who bought from Mrs. Hirsch the furnishings and gave her a note for $500, resisted payment of the note on the ground that part of the furniture Mrs. Hirsch sold her belonged to the roomers.

Sioux City Journal, 30: Mrs. Nellie Waldman, testifying yesterday afternoon in her suit against Edward Waldman for divorce declared her husband beat her whenever he got the notion. "This was quite often, she said. "Was your husband jealous of you?" asked Judge John W. Anderson. "He surely was," answered Mrs. Waldman. She further asserted that he accused her of intimacy with other men. Mrs. Waldman now is working at the Davenport hotel. Judge Anderson granted the divorce. The Waldmans were married at Cole-ridge, Neb., March 30, 1903. After a delay of sixteen years, during which time the validity of the Nebraska drainage law has been in litigation in the state and federal courts, the construction of ditches in drainage district No. 2, which comprises a portion of Dakota county, is to be started. The board of supervisors of the district, of which John Daley, of Jackson, is chairman and Jacob F. Leamer, of Dakota City, is secretary—already has let the contract for construction of the improvement, and the commencement of digging is awaiting the arrival of machinery. While no definite move as yet has been made, it was stated at Dakota City yesterday that it was probable the case again may be taken to the courts. Property owners near Jackson, it is reported, are dissatisfied with the plan for taking care of the waters and will seek redress in the federal courts. Just what legal action is proposed has not been disclosed. The contract let by the supervisors of the district provides for two ditches. The first will start from east of Hubbard up Pigeon creek and extend east to Omaha creek, a distance of about two miles. The second ditch is to start west of Jackson at Elk creek and go east through the southern part of Jackson to Jackson lake. The entire improvement will cost about $30,000. The saloon question will not go on the official ballot at the city election in South Sioux City on April 4. The controversy over the submission of the question, which started nearly a month ago, was ended early last evening when Judge Guy T. Graves, in the district court at Dakota City, sustained the motion of attorneys for the city to quash the writ and dismiss the petition of Oscar Eberhardt, representative of the petitioners who sought by mandamus proceedings to compel a vote on the saloon issue. The ruling of the judge came after a two days' session in which every step in the hearing was sharply contested. Little testimony was taken yesterday. The greater part of the morning was consumed by attorneys for the relator, who submitted evidence in the shape of records from the deed books of the county to prove the property qualifications of the signers of the petition. At the afternoon session arguments were made by the three attorneys on each side, Former Judge R. E. Evans closing for the city, and Fred H. Free for the relator. While during the two days of the trial much of the evidence was in support of and against the sufficiency of the petition as regards the property qualifications of the signers, this feature did not enter into the disposition of the case by the court. The only question taken into consideration by Judge Graves related to the date of filing the petition. His ruling was based on the fact that the instrument was not a part of the records of the city clerk thirty days before the city election, as required by the Nebraska liquor law. This was the only phase touched upon by the judge in briefly announcing his decision. While the evidence was to the effect that the petition had been placed in the hands of City Clerk P. W. Martin in Sioux City on March 3, the justice ruled there was no legal obligation on his part as a city official to take it to his office, which is in another state. This sustained the contention of City Attorney Ward Evans that the document could not be filed legally except in Nebraska. The closing arguments of the attorneys were in keeping with the constant tilts which marked the examination of witnesses. Former Judge Evans and City Attorney Evans described the action as one to forge saloons on the city, while Mr. Free declared that the city attorney and the city clerk had engaged in a conspiracy to prevent the submission of the question to the voters. The trial required a special session of the court. Judge Graves, who came to Sioux City last night, will return today to his home in Pender, Neb.

sacrificial purpose, and that for each one of us. And now that he has given so much for us and simply asks our love in return, can't we sacrifice some for him? And a most wonderful thing about this sacrifice for him is this: The more we do of it, the greater spiritual blessings he gives us. Not nearly all the good things of this life are wrapt up in pleasures of the flesh. It is the happy spirit that makes the happy man. If you never rejoiced within yourself because you were just glad you have yet to realize something as real as gold. We do not experience this over nothing but something. It is in connection with Jesus. Joyful repentance because it brings forgiveness. Delightful humility because it exalts Christ. Happy surrender because Christ is all.

"But this has never been my experience." No, your religious experience has never been deep because you have not denied the pleasures of the flesh sufficiently to seek with all your heart the wonderful gifts of God. Peter, James and John had to climb the mountain to see the transfiguration. We cannot hope to see it from the valley. You do not know what joys are awaiting you if you get in a position to receive them. You do not know the vision of life there is spread out for a man to see, and the glory of the living opportunity that is yours.

Why live a narrow life without joy. Deny yourself for Christ to exalt him and he will give you the joy you wish to have. If he has not failed others he will not fail you. God will not give his richness to you till there is evidence you really desire them. Then you will truly have to "tear down your barns and build greater."

The chorus is doing good work on the Easter Cantata and we will have it in good shape for Easter day. We are not going to disappoint you then, and you are not going to disappoint us in the offering. There is not going to be any admission, but we will make a benevolent offering, and we are asking for $100 from a full house on a fine Easter Sunday morning. No, that is not too much. Don't say "we can't" but say "I'll do my part. It is for our church, and God blesses a church according to her operations. There are many heights to be reached, but we will take one at a time. If everybody helps it will be easy.

Our furnace smoked us out again so we commandered St. John's church across the way. Our secretary was instructed to communicate with our German brethren as to what we did and why, tender our thanks for the same, and an offer to pay for our privilege. St. John's people would surely be welcome to Salem church under such circumstances, and we are sure they will concur.

One understood there would be no preaching next Sunday. This is a mistake. There will be the regular services next Sunday, nothing preventing.

Your children will appreciate your coming with them to Sunday school. We have a place for you.

McKELVIE FOR GOVERNOR.

His Legislative Experience. Of all the candidates for governor it is generally admitted that S. R. McKelvie is best fitted for the place in point of legislative experience. He served one term as a member of the house of representatives and one term as lieutenant governor. This gives him a practical knowledge of both the legislative and executive branches of state government. Not only that, but his record in both places was entirely above reproach. He was found at all times active in the interests of the people. This is one of the many reasons why he is usually referred to as The Popular Candidate.

JOHN L. KENNEDY —FOR— UNITED STATES SENATOR.

"Grow With Growing Nebraska"

CHESTER H. ALDRICH
(Former Governor)
Republican Primary Candidate for Nomination for United States Senator

The Logical Candidate

"Nebraska republicans look to the record of Governor Aldrich with some degree of pride when they remember that he has been a man who has accomplished something for the people of this state by way of legislation. It would require almost a column to fully enumerate the reforms and many points which he has accomplished in this direction. Suffice to say, that almost everything looking to a lower passenger, freight or express rate bears the imprint of the efficient work of Governor Aldrich."—Friend Telegraph.

"Governor Aldrich possesses many qualities to make him a popular candidate. He never fails to state definitely where he stands on all public questions. He has the courage of his convictions and stands ready at all times to defend his position."—Albion News.

Governor Aldrich is the logical candidate to nominate because of his strength with the common people, and the fact that the large majority of the voters in Nebraska are familiar with his record and know just where he stands. Republicans who have no axes to grind know that Mr. Aldrich is no experiment as an effective and efficient public servant.
